About Me

Hi, I'm Kagan. I'm 24 and currently living in Istanbul Turkey. Firstly i had a curious about software programming when i was in high school and I've enrolled web programming department in high school. Then i wanted to improve myself and studied at Trakya University in department of Computer Tech. and Information Sys. I'm currently working as an Android Developer right now. I have created some projects that are accessible from my website, I can create Web Projects with PHP, CSS3, HTML5 and JavaScript, Windows Store apps with C#, XAML, Android apps with Java as native and IOS apps with HTML5, JavaScript as Hybrid. Right now I'm trying to improve myself on native IOS programming. Additionally i have passion about designing something and i'm not afraid of coming across with problems. I like to solve problems in software development even every part of the life.
